CHAIRMAN'S REPORT

Symphony has been going through difficult and changing times. The market for oxo-biodegradable technologies since we entered this field has not been easy, and potential customers have been subjected to a determined campaign against oxo-biodegradable by the hydro-biodegradable (starch-based) industry. However, we can now see that the market is beginning to realise the benefits of oxo-biodegradable and the limitations of hydro-biodegradable, and this is being reflected in enquiries and sales of additives.

In addition, Symphony is no longer just a plastics company. Symphony Energy Resources has commenced the expansion of Symphony into a waste-to-energy Group as well. This division of the business is still in its infancy, but it has won two UK government grants, and is working with Imperial College and others to produce commercially viable machines to convert waste tyres and plastics efficiently into valuable products.

This technology answers two of the most important questions I hear when I meet Government Ministers and officials in many parts of the world – “What do we do with waste tyres and plastics? And how do we reduce dependence on imported oil?” Legislation in the EU and elsewhere is demanding reductions in waste going to landfill and is promoting recycling. I believe that the potential for this business could be even greater than for oxo-biodegradable plastic.

Since 3 April 2007 the Board has taken decisive action to improve operating performance by reducing overheads, to re-deploy resources where they can be more effective, and to drive higher-margin sales forward. We are already seeing the benefit of this revised strategy and look forward to a more positive future for the Company.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S REVIEW

Operating performance in 2006 was very disappointing, ending with continued losses. There were a number of setbacks in the Caribbean region. An exceptional write off of £830,000 was made in respect to our previous distributor following a restructuring. In addition, order take up in the region following the restructure was not at the levels anticipated.

Most of these setbacks have now been overcome. The Board has changed the management team removing the posts of COO and Group MD from the management structure, and a competent manager now heads each operating department. Overheads have been cut, and margins are improving.

On the oxo-biodegradable plastics side of the business, the Group's change in strategic direction continued throughout 2006, with a move away from selling high-volume/low margin commodity products in mature markets towards markets for such products where we have identified more profitable opportunities. In addition Symphony has been licensing higher margin/lower volume d2w® additive technology instead of plastic products. Significant progress has been made with international sales, and d2w® is now sold and/or represented in more than 50 countries.

Financial review

Total group sales decreased by 54% to £4.20m, group gross profits decreased by 53% from £1.77m to £0.84m. Sales of additives, however, grew 100% in 2006. The fall in total sales was due to the change in strategic direction away from non-degradable sales and sales in high volume commodity products.

Non-exceptional administrative expenses decreased by 13% to £2.21m in 2006, from £2.55 in 2005. The change in direction has started to have a positive impact on costs, primarily staff costs where the move away from high volume commodity products has allowed the group to operate effectively with fewer support staff.

The operating loss in 2006 increased to £2.34m from £1.25m in 2005. This included exceptional costs of £830,000 relating to writing off the debt owed by our distributor in the Caribbean. (2005: exceptional costs of £0.19m related to legal cost provisions).

Research and development tax credits totalling £37,334 were received during 2006 and these are included in tax on loss on ordinary activities in the profit and loss account. Development costs of £64,000 (2005: £nil) were capitalised during the year. These costs relate to continued work carried out in developing new and improved formulations of our d2w® range of additives.

The loss per share increased to 3.62 pence from 2.28 pence.

Approximately £630,000 was raised in the year under review through a share placing, and a further £254,000 net, by a convertible loan. Net cash outflow from operating activities was £0.35m (2005: cash outflow £1.55m).

Current trading and outlook

Encouragingly sales of Symphony's d2w® additives doubled during the year, with many new markets opening up. In South America, for example, legislation is changing in favour of oxo-biodegradable plastic.

We are seeing a lot more exposure in global television and the press with recent coverage of d2w® on television in Brazil, Argentina, and Portugal, and a front page article in Tunisia.

The UK has, perhaps surprisingly, been one of our more difficult markets. However, Symphony's oxo-biodegradable products are back in the Co-op, and other major UK retailers are beginning to realise the benefits of oxo-biodegradable and have started to demand oxo-biodegradable products. Their suppliers around the world are now contacting us and some are already buying d2w®.

The market is also beginning to realise the limitations of starch-based plastics, in particular their high cost and the fact that they emit methane, which is a potent greenhouse gas. In addition, polylactose acid (PLA) based products are not compatible with most recycling schemes and concern is growing that making fuels and plastics from crops is driving up food prices and destroying rain forests.

In Portugal the country's largest retail group, Sonae, has adopted d2w® in all their carrier bags for their Continente, Mondelo and Mondelo Bonjour supermarket chains, which are estimated to account for more than 500 million bags per year. This is significant not in terms of absolute value, but for the breakthrough which it represents. This builds on the current portfolio which includes Marriott and Royal Caribbean Cruise Lines, and leading UK supermarkets are now using d2w® finished products or our additive technology. The world's largest supermarket, Wal-Mart, is now using d2w® in its Argentinian stores after a major media-launch. In France and Belgium, products made with d2w® are being sold throughout Europe by Retif; the B-to-B leader in specialised distribution of retail equipment and supplies.

Further improvements are being made to the growing range of d2w® additives, which could open new product applications. Costs and operational systems continue to be reviewed and improved. Stretch film using d2w® additive is being supplied on a regular basis to New Zealand. Trials of agricultural mulching film and protective sleeves are ongoing.

The group's strategy into 2007 primarily incorporates the sale of high margin additive products which enable a lower cost base and significantly improved working capital cycle. After review of the current performance of the Group, the new strategy has shown a marked improvement in gross profit margins. Since April 2007 significant cost reductions have also been made in areas without causing detriment to developing business going forward.

The balance sheet was also strengthened in February 2007 with a placing which netted the group £1,100,000 after associated costs.

Management changes

Matthew Turner joined the main Board on 29 August 2006 and left the Company on 27 April 2007.

We were pleased to report that Michael F. Stephens rejoined the main Board on 13 November 2006 as Technical Director.

Keith Frener left the main Board on 25 September 2006 and now focuses on the oxo-biodegradable side of the business mainly in the UK, as a Director of Symphony Environmental Limited.

On 3 April 2007 the Chairman appointed Mr. Michael Stephen, an experienced Barrister and former Member of Parliament, (no relation to the Technical Director) to make recommendations for the improvement of operating procedures and corporate governance within the Company. These recommendations have been endorsed by the Board and are being implemented.

Standards

One of the problems experienced by oxo-biodegradable plastic has been European Standard EN 13432, which unfairly discriminates against oxo-biodegradable technology. Matters are now moving in the right direction, as the British Standards Institute is working on a new standard, which is capable of testing oxo-biodegradable. The French BNPP is also working on a draft standard for oxo-biodegradable plastic in agricultural applications.

Waste-to-energy

(Symphony Energy Resources Limited ("SER")).

Thermal pyrolysis

Following Cabinet approval in Sri Lanka we are now preparing the way to draw up formal contracts. It must be stressed that no contract is yet in place, but is currently estimated that the programme will commence in the final quarter of 2007 for installation and commissioning of a plant to convert waste plastics to oil and gas in the second half of 2008.

Microwave pyrolysis

SER successfully competed at a national level with 57 other companies for a DTI grant of £50,000 towards a feasibility study into microwave pyrolysis of waste tyres, to convert them into useful products. The second stage of this grant award scheme takes place in the autumn and we could secure a further substantial grant toward the design and construction of a commercial scale microwave pyrolysis plant.

Following our success in the first grant award, we again competed nationally in a separate award scheme for a research studentship grant to study microwave processing of waste plastic. In May this year we were one of only three companies out of over 100 who were successful, and we were awarded £62,000 in studentship grants.

Microwave pyrolysis of scrap tyres has been the subject of an intense academic study programme, and we have now received the report from the lead university conducting the study. Further academic work is ongoing to quantify and qualify the end products of microwave pyrolysis of tyres.

Conclusion

During the past twelve months Symphony has been transformed from a commodity plastics company into an environmental technologies Group, delivering solutions to some of the world's most pressing environmental problems.

Major changes have taken place, and the Company is now in a much better position to face the future. We are investing in R&D for both oxo-biodegradable applications and for waste-to-energy. We are expanding our network of distributors, we are improving efficiency, and we are evaluating other technologies where synergies exist.

As indicated earlier, of the 192 countries in the world Symphony is now in more than 50 and d2w® continues to progress. Though 2006 was a tough year for Symphony we have been encouraged by the progress we have made so far in 2007 and we look forward to the future with confidence.

PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of accounting

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention and in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice.

The principal accounting policies of the group are set out below and have remained unchanged from the previous year except for the adoption of FRS 20 "share based payments". The adoption of this standard has increased the loss for the year by £75,000 (2005 – £nil).

Going concern

The group's strategy into 2007 primarily incorporates the sale of high margin additive products which enable a lower cost base and significantly improved working capital cycle. After review of the current performance of the Group, the new strategy has shown a marked improvement in gross profit margins. Since April 2007 significant cost reductions have also been made in areas without causing detriment to developing business going forward.

The balance sheet was also strengthened in February 2007 with a placing which netted the group £1,100,000 after associated costs.

Having reviewed the detailed forecasts that adopt the new trading strategy and taking into account available banking and other potential facilities available, and making further enquiries as considered appropriate, the Directors are satisfied that the group has sufficient resources to enable it to continue in business for the foreseeable future. For this reason, the Directors believe it is appropriate to continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the financial statements.

Basis of consolidation

The group financial statements consolidate the financial statements of the company and all subsidiary undertakings (see note 13).

The company was entitled to merger relief offered by section 131 of the Companies Act 1985 in respect of consideration received in excess of the nominal value of the equity shares issued in connection with the acquisition of Symphony Plastics Limited on 9 December 1999. This was accounted for under merger accounting.

As a consolidated profit and loss account is published, a separate profit and loss account for the parent company is omitted from the group financial statements by virtue of section 230 of the Companies Act 1985.

Turnover

Turnover is the revenue arising from the sales of goods supplied and services provided, excluding VAT and trade discounts. It is stated at the fair value of the consideration receivable.

Revenue is recognised when the significant risks and benefits of ownership of the product have transferred to the buyer, which maybe based on shipment or delivery depending upon the specific contract terms.

Revenue from services provided by the company is recognised when the company has performed its obligations and in exchange obtained the right to consideration.

Research and development costs

Development costs incurred on specific projects are capitalised when recoverability can be assessed with reasonable certainty. All other research and development costs are written off in the year of expenditure.

Amortisation is calculated so as to write off the cost of an asset, less its estimated residual value, over the useful economic life of that asset as follows:

Development costs – 5 years straight line

Trademarks

Trademarks represent the cost of registration and are carried at cost less amortisation.

Amortisation is calculated so as to write off the cost of an asset, less its estimated residual value, over the useful economic life of that asset as follows:

Trademarks – 10 years straight line

Tangible fixed assets and depreciation

Tangible fixed assets are stated at cost, net of depreciation and any provision for impairment.

Depreciation is calculated so as to write off the cost of an asset, less its estimated residual value, over the useful economic life of that asset as follows:

Plant and machinery	- 20% reducing balance
Fixtures and fittings	- 25% reducing balance
Motor vehicles	- 20% reducing balance
Office equipment	- 25% straight line

Stocks

Stocks are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value, after making due allowance for obsolete and slow moving items.

Leasing and hire purchase commitments

Assets held under finance leases, which are leases where substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset have passed to the company, and hire purchase contracts, are capitalised in the balance sheet and are depreciated over their useful lives. The capital elements of future obligations under the leases and hire purchase contracts are included as liabilities in the balance sheet.

The interest elements of the rental obligations are charged in the consolidated profit and loss account over the periods of the leases and hire purchase contracts and represent a constant proportion of the balance of capital repayments outstanding.

Rentals payable under operating leases are charged in the consolidated profit and loss account on a straight line basis over the lease term.

Pension costs

The group operates a defined contribution pension scheme for employees. The assets of the scheme are held separately from those of the group. The annual contributions payable are charged to the profit and loss account.

Deferred taxation

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of all timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the balance sheet date where transactions or events have occurred at that date that will result in an obligation to pay more, or a right to pay less or to receive more tax, with the following exception: deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that the directors consider that it is more likely than not that there will be suitable taxable profits from which the future reversal of the underlying timing differences can be deducted.

Deferred tax is measured on an undiscounted basis at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the periods in which timing differences reverse, based on tax rates and laws enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date.

Foreign currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at the rates of exchange ruling at the balance sheet date. Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at the rate of exchange ruling at the date of the transaction. Exchange differences are taken into account in arriving at the operating profit.

Investments

Investments are included at cost or fair value less amounts written off.

Financial instruments

Financial liabilities and equity instruments are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into. An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the entity after deducting all of its financial liabilities.

Where the contractual obligations of the financial instruments (including share capital) are equivalent to a similar debt instrument, those financial instruments are classified as financial liabilities. Financial liabilities are presented as such in the balance sheet. Finance costs are calculated so as to produce a constant rate of return on the outstanding liability.

Where the contractual terms of share capital do not have any terms meeting the definition of a financial liability then this is classified as an equity instrument. Dividends and distributions relating to equity instruments are debited direct to equity.

Equity settled share based payments

All share-based payment arrangements granted after 7 November 2002 that had not vested prior to 1 January 2006 are recognised in the financial statements.

All goods and services received in exchange for the grant of any share-based payment are measured at their fair values. Where employees are rewarded using share-based payments, the fair values of employee services are determined indirectly by reference to the fair value of the instrument granted to the employee. This fair value is appraised at the grant date and excludes the impact of market vesting conditions. The fair value is charged to the profit and loss account between the date of issue and the date the share options vest with a corresponding credit taken to shareholders' funds.

Warrants granted to employees which relate to salary sacrifice arrangements are attributed a fair value by reference to the services provided. This fair value is charged to the profit and loss account when the service is provided with a corresponding credit taken to shareholders' funds.

19 Pensions

Defined Contribution Scheme

The group operates a defined contribution scheme for the benefit of the executive directors. The assets of the scheme are administered by trustees in a fund independent from those of the group.

20 Financial instruments

The Group uses various financial instruments which include cash, invoice discounting, overdrafts, equity and various items, such as trade debtors and trade creditors that arise directly from its operations. The main purpose of these financial instruments is to raise finance for the Group's operations.

The main risks arising from the Group's financial instruments are interest rate risk, currency risk, liquidity risk and credit risk. The directors review and agree policies for managing each of these risks and they are summarised below. These policies have remained unchanged from previous years.

Interest rate risk

Trade creditors do not attract interest and are therefore only subject to fair value interest rate risk which is a benefit to the Group. This benefit is partly offset by trade debtors which also do not attract interest.

The bank borrowings are at floating rate based on LIBOR and the Group does not hedge this risk which is partly offset by the floating rate interest on its cash balances.

Currency risk

The Group operates in overseas markets and is subject to currency exposure on transactions undertaken during the year. The Group does not hedge any transactions.

Liquidity risk

The Group seeks to manage financial risk, to ensure financial liquidity is available to meet foreseeable needs and to invest cash assets safely and profitably. Short term flexibility is achieved through the bank overdraft and intragroup borrowing facilities.

Credit risk

The Group's principal financial assets are cash and trade debtors. The credit risk associated with the cash is limited as the counterparties have high credit ratings assigned by international credit-rating agencies. The principal credit risk arises therefore from its trade debtors.

In order to manage credit risk the directors set limits for customers based on a combination of payment history and third party credit references and these limits are reviewed regularly.

Fair value of financial assets and liabilities

The directors have given serious consideration and have reached the conclusion that there is no significant difference between book and fair value of assets and liabilities of the Group at the balance sheet date.

21 Commitments under operating leases

At 31 December 2006 the group had annual commitments under non-cancellable operating leases as set out below.

22 Contingent liabilities

The company made an allotment of 6,300,000 ordinary 1p shares each fully paid on 13 October 2006 at 10p per share. The difference of £567,000 between the total consideration of £630,000 and the total nominal value of £63,000 has been credited to the share premium account.

On 13 December 2006 the company entered into a convertible loan agreement for up to £500,000, for 360 days, at a coupon rate of 8.0 per cent per annum. The terms of the agreement provide for conversion into 1p ordinary shares at a price of 95% of the lowest bid price during the preceding 15 trading days prior to conversion notice received. The financial instrument has been treated as a financial liability as the number of shares issued varies with the bid price.

Share options

As at 31 December 2006 the Group maintained a number of share-based payment schemes for employee compensation. For the options granted to vest, the group must achieve an earnings per share in excess of 0.001p and employees must serve a specified amount of time. Upon vesting, each option allows the holder to purchase one ordinary share at the exercise price shown below.

All share-based employee compensation will be settled in equity. The Group has no legal or constructive obligation to repurchase or settle the options.

Share options and weighted average exercise price are as follows for the reporting periods presented:

	2006		2005
Outstanding at 1 January	3,692,416	0.14	4,483,416	0.19
Granted	1,212,121	0.08	–	–
Forfeited	–	–	–	–
Exercised	–	–	–	–
Expired	(840,166)	0.12	(791,000)	0.57
Outstanding at 31 December	4,064,371	0.13	3,692,416	0.14

The directors have considered the fair value of the options issued to employees but after taking into account the vesting condition related to earnings per share as referred to above, there is no charge (2005 – £nil) in the profit and loss account. No options were exercisable at the year end.

Other share-based payments

On 13 April 2006 the company entered into a distribution agreement with Degradable Polymer Products Inc (a company incorporated in the state of Delaware, USA). The agreement provides for the grant of 4,000,000 options at an exercise price of 15p per share subject to express prior approval of the company. This approval has to date not been given. In any event, the option if granted would expire on 30 September 2007.

On 21 August 2006 the company entered into a subscription option agreement with Rand International Leisure Products Inc (a company incorporated in the state of New York, USA). The agreement provides for up to 5,000,000 options exercisable at 12p per share, to be awarded depending on specific trigger events. These events have not occurred as at the date of the signing of these financial statements.

500,000*	15	13 December 2006	13 December 2011

*During the year 500,000 warrants were issued in connection with the convertible loan.

The 3,730,000 warrants were issued in lieu of salary and therefore the profit and loss account includes a FRS 20 share based payment charge of £75,000 (2005 – £nil) reflecting the fair value of the salary sacrificed. There is no charge in the profit and loss account for the 500,000 warrants issued in conjunction with the convertible loan on the grounds of materiality.
